

Impact Of UMKM Deterioration In The Covid Pandemic 19

The Faculty of Social and Political Sciences (FISIPOL) of the Medan Area University (UMA) held an online discussion event with the theme of the fate of MSMEs during the COVID-19 pandemic. On Saturday June 19, 2020.

This activity is an effort to establish silahturrahi between FISIPOL lecturers and students. besides this activity while sharing and sharing knowledge about SMEs.

as we know in the phenomenon that is happening right now, the co-19 pandemic has an impact on slowing national economic growth, especially businesses or MSMEs that have dropped dramatically.

In the circumstances that occur during this pandemic, the fate of MSMEs such as Darwin's theory with its natural selection where MSMEs affected by this pandemic experience deterioration, reduced income, and increased costs where production is not optimal or even does not run very well, this natural selection requires MSME actors those affected by dampak must have a large CAPITAL to survive so that their business does not go bankrupt

In this discussion as the resource person, the Lecturer from the Faculty of ISIPOL UMA, Mr. Yarhamdhani, S. Sos, MSP (Doctoral Candidates for development studies).

This Online Discussion was opened by Beby Masitho Batubara, S. Sos, MAP, vice dean for Academic Affairs, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences. Chairika Nst, S. Sos, MAP As a Moderator in this online discussion. Also present were chair of the Public Administration Study Program and the Head of Communication Studies Study Program.

Before the online discussion was closed, the resource person gave a question and answer session to the participants of the online discussion this time.